

STRATEGIC PLAN

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Mission

Advancing economic equity and overall well being of HACLA's communities

Overview of Strategic Plan

Build Hope Inc. (BHI) has undergone a meticulous strategic planning process aimed at refining its purpose and enhancing programmatic and operational strategies for the first five years of operation. This process, conducted in multiple phases, involved stakeholder interviews, a thorough literature review, and a comprehensive landscape analysis. Data garnered from these phases informed the development of a Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats (“SWOT”) analysis, which was used to guide the revised purpose and mission statement and the recommended program and operational priorities.

The Strategic Plan fine-tunes BHI’s purpose and refines its programmatic and operational strategies for the next five years. BHI will focus on education attainment, economic equity, resource resilience, and service coordination for HACLA residents. BHI will tackle urgent issues affecting the overall well-being of these underserved communities through direct programming, resource mobilization, partnerships and innovative pilot programs.

Program Priorities & Operational Building Blocks

As a result of the strategic planning process, BHI identified four strategic program priorities and two essential operational building blocks. BHI will invest in advancing education, enhancing economic mobility, guaranteeing resource resiliency, and fostering service-enriched communities. Simultaneously, operational building blocks will be prioritized, including bolstering fundraising and fiscal health and strengthening organizational culture and capacity.

I. ORGANIZATIONAL HISTORY

Build Hope, Inc. was created under the name Kids Progress Inc. (“KPI”) in 2002 by the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles (“HACLA”) to ensure that low-income residents living in HACLA’s properties or receiving Section 8 assistance receive the full social, health, educational and work opportunities to which they are entitled, and to enhance quality of life through long-term academic and economic success.

In 2020, KPI was rebranded and its name was changed to Build Hope, Inc. Although originally incorporated to service all of HACLA’s communities, the primary beneficiaries of its operations and resources were residents of HACLA’s largest public housing sites. The goal of the rebranding and refocus was to make a concerted effort to broaden the expanse of its services to include HACLA’s growing Asset Management portfolio of properties serving homeless, seniors and those at risk of homelessness as well as the diverse households in HACLA’s Housing Choice Voucher Program under Section 8. In 2021, BHI hired a communication consultant to assist with developing a logo and a new website. As part of the branding strategy, BHI revised its mission statement and priority areas.

In addition to fulfilling HACLA’s mandate of safely housing residents, BHI is dedicated to improving life outcomes and addressing intergenerational poverty. It does this by focusing on four key areas:

- Healthy Lives - creating a culture of health
- Paths to Growth - ensuring access to jobs, career development and financial security
- Education & Enrichment - facilitating formal and continuing education and access to enriched experiences
- Covering the Basics - guaranteeing residents the basic needs to allow them to pursue their goals with serenity and confidence

BHI serves individuals and families living in public housing, Section 8 and other residential housing units owned or operated by HACLA. BHI’s services stretch across some of the most underserved communities in the City of Los Angeles from Watts to Mar Vista to Chinatown to Boyle Heights to San Fernando Valley. More than 137,000 Angelenos live in a home developed, managed or funded by HACLA. The majority of residents are Hispanic (74%) or African American (22%) and have an average annual family income of $24,000.

In December 2022, Officers of BHI recommended the Board of Directors consider the hiring of a permanent full-time executive director and to develop an organizational plan to bolster the capacity of the non-profit to meet its mission. In response and support of this intent, in 2023 the Board of Directors agreed to engage a third party consultant and undertake a deep examination of how best to support organizational capacity-building and revisit the organization’s primary goals and programmatic areas.

II. STRATEGIC PLANNING PROCESS: METHODOLOGY AND ENGAGEMENT

BHI is at a pivotal juncture in its evolution and trajectory. BHI's success and constraint over the years has been tethered to its unique position as an independently governed 501(c)(3) non-profit organization affiliated with HACLA. This affiliation has afforded BHI the opportunity to access donations and resources inaccessible to government agencies, enabling the development of programs such as the Build Hope Inc. scholarship. However, BHI's capacity to maximize these resources and further establish its programming foothold has been constrained by its current staffing and governance framework.

Recognizing the need for strategic evolution, BHI took decisive action in March 2023 by engaging a consultant to develop a strategic plan. This plan is designed to leverage the organization's existing strengths while charting a course toward greater independence and structural cohesion. By doing so, BHI aims to better serve the needs of HACLA residents and communities.

The strategic planning process utilized a multi-phased approach, leveraging stakeholder interviews, a thorough literature review, and a comprehensive landscape analysis. This rigorous methodology was instrumental in refining BHI's purpose and enhancing both its programmatic initiatives and operational strategies for the next five years.

- Stakeholder interviews: Interviews were conducted with a variety of stakeholders including HACLA staff, BHI board members, BHI partner organizations, Los Angeles-based funders, other public housing agencies, and governmental-affiliated nonprofits. See Appendix A for full list interviewees.
- Literature review: A deep review of HACLA and BHI organizational materials was conducted. This included HACLA's 25-Year Vision Plan, Annual Reports, organizational charts as well as BHI Bylaws, Articles of Incorporation, current Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between HACLA & BHI, current and past grant applications, board agendas and documents, and historic operating budget.
- Landscape analysis: To better understand the broader context, targeted research was conducted focused on public housing authorities with similar nonprofit organizations, LOMOD, local community development and economic development corporations, and local nonprofits focused on similar program areas. See Appendix B for a sample of his landscape focused on key resident programs across a handful of public housing authorities.

Key Themes that Emerged

Data from the multi-phased process was compiled and a SWOT analysis (see Appendix C) was developed. Six themes emerged from the SWOT analysis and stakeholder interviews. These themes were used to guide the revised purpose and recommended program and operational priorities and are described here:

STRATEGIC PLAN

1. There is excitement for BHI: Majority of staff, partners, and funders expressed enthusiasm for the creation of BHI as an independent nonprofit, recognizing its potential to further impact the lives of HACLA residents.
2. Connection and affiliation to HACLA is a strength: All stakeholders identified the connection to HACLA as a real strength because of its strong reputation and extensive network. BHI should not shy away from this connection but rather leverage it. A strongly branded private-public partnership with HACLA can be a real asset for BHI.
3. BHI has the potential to become a leader in program and service coordination and delivery: Service coordination and partnership management were identified as one of the greatest needs. With BHI, HACLA has the opportunity to strengthen service delivery to residents and develop best in class models.
4. BHI's existing programs and services are strong building blocks: BHI has an existing portfolio of well-established, high-quality programs. There was agreement that BHI should focus on strengthening and expanding these programs - ensuring equitable distribution of resources - rather than starting new ones.
5. Resident relations and communication are both a strength and a challenge: Residents trust HACLA, which will be helpful as BHI establishes itself within the community. At the same time, resident engagement in existing services can be inconsistent and serving HACLA's scattered communities, including smaller properties and Section 8 tenant voucher holders is difficult. To be successful, BHI will need to incorporate comprehensive outreach and communication strategies within its program areas.
6. HACLA can lead innovation well: Many Public Housing Authorities ("PHAs") have nonprofits to support resident services and programming but none of the authorities researched have stand-alone nonprofits with their own staff, board of directors, governance structure and organizational infrastructure. HACLA's peers are eager to learn from HACLA's process and the results of innovating around how it can better use and operate within this opportunity of expanding its non-profit role and independence.

IV. MISSION AND PURPOSE

BHI is committed to serving as a central coordinating entity, mobilizing a diverse network of partner organizations to collectively tackle urgent issues affecting the overall health of HACLA residents. Through direct programming, strategic partnerships, and innovative pilot programs, BHI will advance economic equity and overall well-being of HACLA communities.

Backbone

Becomes the backbone organization supporting economic equity and wellbeing for HACLA communities

Coordination

Takes on the responsibility of coordinating resources for residents, private funding, and unique partners

Innovation

Launches innovative pilot programs where services are lacking

Based on the proposed priorities and strategies, BHI's revised mission statement is: "Advancing economic equity and overall well-being of HACLA's communities" The accompanying tagline is: "Promoting pathways to opportunity."

V. STRATEGIC PRIORITIES: PROGRAM PRIORITIES & OPERATIONAL BUILDING BLOCKS

Housing is the foundation of poverty alleviation, but housing alone cannot lift individuals out of poverty. HACLA understands that affordable housing is successful in the human stories it tells, not just the physical environments it creates. Change happens when individuals have equitable access to quality opportunities, such as education, jobs and training, technology, self-sufficiency resources, and services that enhance well-being and overall quality of life.

For two decades, BHI has been enhancing the quality of life and overall well-being of HACLA residents through various programs, support services, and resource resiliency. Building on these successful collaborations and partnerships, BHI now aims to focus its efforts on the following four strategic priorities and two operational building blocks over the next five years. All six priorities are interconnected, each emphasizing crucial areas of quality and growth areas. Anchored in stakeholder input, Board of Director insights, and the vision of HACLA's executive team, each strategic priority has initiatives and goals that serve as benchmarks for measuring progress and success toward the overall program outcomes.

Build Hope Inc. will remain dedicated to serving all residents and communities within HACLA, with programming and services being launched strategically in HACLA's communities or with its populations that appear to be the least well-served by other partners and resources. BHI will maintain its support for programs already serving affordable housing and Section 8 residents, such as the Scholarship program and its connected Project SOAR partnership. As BHI refines its programs and services, it will gradually broaden its scope to encompass more residents of affordable housing and Section 8. BHI is steadfast in its commitment to swiftly extend support to these communities and will actively seek opportunities to pilot innovative initiatives as they arise.

Program Priorities

During the strategic planning process, four key strategic priorities were identified. BHI will focus on implementing Priorities 1, 2, and 3 within the initial four years of operation, with Priority 4 slated for launch in the fifth year.

The intent of this Five Year Strategic Plan is to be data-informed and data-driven. To that end each Program Priority has been developed into a Knowledge Graph (Appendix E) tracking the Priorities and their related Initiatives, Goals, and Outcomes. By developing a Measurement Plan, BHI, its Board of Directors and funders can be directed by milestones of change and identify signs of progress. The Knowledge Graph, as a tool, will help improve the selection of metrics and collection methods by each program team. With an algorithmic approach, BHI will be able to highlight areas where there is success and investments should be increased as well as areas where initiatives are not as impactful as initially anticipated and change of course or improvements can be enacted. Incorporated below is a highlight of the initial expectation for each Program Priority and suggested year for its initiation.
